

Bret Stephens

Israel and the Impact on the Middle East

Sunday, November 1, 2026 from 6:00-7:00 pm

Doors open at 5:45 pm

Temple Israel Center

Join Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Bret Stephens for an evening of conversation and analysis as he explores the pressing issues shaping America, Israel, and the Jewish world today. He will offer insights about Israel, from the recent elections to the implications of issues shaping the Middle East and beyond.

Drawing on his experience as a columnist and foreign affairs commentator, Stephens will offer insights into the future of the U.S.-Israel relationship, the changing geopolitical landscape of the Middle East, and the evolving place of the Jewish community in an increasingly complex world.

For more information or to register, please scan this QR code.

This program is made possible by the Rabbi Gordon Tucker Fund for Jewish Learning, Thought and Culture. Please scan the QR code if you are interested in contributing to this fund to help support future events.

If there is anything we can do to make this program accessible to you please contact Sue Safir at s.safir@templeisraelcenter.org.
ASL interpreter available upon request two weeks prior to this event by contacting Sue Safir.